COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Plans are being made to hold a special town meeting about the middle of July. One purpose of the meeting will be to see if the Town will authorize the Selectmen to grant life leases at the airport on parcels of land on which hangars may be built. At the present there is one individual who wishes to construct such a building. These would revert to the town after the lease expires.

We are now collecting rent on the two hangars already there. This money is used to help maintain the facilities.

An article will also be inserted to authorize the Selectmen to dispose of the East Bethel school house which the town voted to accept at the last regular town meeting. At that time we neglected to have the proper article to sell the structure.

We have also experienced unexpected expense maintaining the Parks and Cemeteries. Two lawn mowers have now been purchased, one a used riding mower, the other a new push type power rotary. The Common has been in very bad shape this summer due mainly to the fact the old mowers we were using were not in operating condition a large part of the time. An additional appropriation may be asked for in that account to avoid an overdraft. If the Town feels we should purchase a new machine instead of the used riding mower, we have been assured we will receive the price of the used one toward a new machine.

NEW MAINE LAW SAYS ALL COMMUNITIES SHALL ADOPT JULY 1-JUNE 30 FISCAL YEAR

Governor Kenneth M. Curtis has signed into law a bill sponsored by state representative Louis Jalbert, D-Lewiston, that will make all communities in Maine have a fiscal year starting July 1.

It has been estimated that less than 10% now use that July 1-June 30 fiscal year, but state government has been using that period for many years. Under the new law, starting Jan. 1, 1970, and in no case later than June 30, 1972, the appropriate authorities of each municipality in the state shall begin the procedure necessary to conform with this law. During this transition period, it will be possible for a community that is on a 12-month fiscal year to appropriate monies for a period longer than 12 months in order that the next appropriation will commence on the uniform fiscal year basis. The law will become effective on January 1, 1970, instead of the usual 90 days following adjournment of the Legislature.

Governor Curtis said, "One of the most important reasons for this type of legislation is that now when the Legislature is considering appropriations that will go to towns and cities in the form of school subsidies, highway maintenance and other programs, there will be no lapse in period when municipalities are writing their budgets. An example is the school subsidy program. In March many Maine towns write their school budget and part of the budget is supported by state funds; but it is usually June or July before the exact figure each town will receive is known."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

"WATER"
Today's "Times of India" reports that all but one District (County) of Maharashtra is having a water shortage problem. Many villages have to haul drinking water from miles away. Some places the government is hauling water by truck, but mostly water is a "headload" or hauled in barrels by bullock cart.

None of this water meets the U. S. standards for potable water, with the exception perhaps of an occasional spring or even less likely a particular well. Some few cities have filtration and chlorinating facilities, but not consistently dependable.

Our water is being hauled about a fifth of a mile—keeps the cook from getting frisky. We have to boil our water for not less than fifteen minutes. The kinds and varieties of organisms covers a rather broad spectrum—yes, our water has things in it. This is our third year of boiling, so it comes naturally.

We read in the "Citizen" of the recent decision to add fluoride to Chapman Brook water.

I wonder if you people realize just how fortunate you are to have plenty of water at all times, even though there is a minute quantity of chlorine and fluoride added to it?

Jane and I are looking forward to the everyday occurrence of a full bath or a brisk shower but more especially to the luxury of plenty of sweet, fresh Maine drinking water. Eighteen months seems like a long time to wait. In the meantime, we'll have to be content to add tea or coffee to make it a bit more palatable.

"COW DUNG"
Cow Dung is a very versatile material here in India. Mixed with loam from the rice paddy and sand from the river-bed it makes quite a sturdy mortar and plaster for walls.

Mixed with ordinary earth and packed hard, makes a fairly durable floor. Two rooms of our house are of this material—the surface being renewed every ten days or so with a dung and water slurry—a rather attractive light brown natural texture, but low on aesthetic scale.

When formed into flat patties and thoroughly dried it is the universal cooking fuel. Also fresh cow dung is used for small gas plants and supplies several families with fuel in the form of gas.

Much of it is dried and mixed with dried leaves then just before the onset of monsoon, it is burnt on the rice paddies for fertilizer. Some is stored in compost pits, then spread on the fields or paddies just before planting.

A minute quantity is eaten once a year as part of a religious ceremony. Sometimes it is used externally on cuts.

Along the countryside, one can see the round flat clakes drying on the paddies in the bright sunshine—of stacked neatly in rows and in some places these dung-cakes are dried on tree trunks.

What really stands out in our minds as the ultimate use—was the time that our cook informed us that the cow dung she was using to renew the surface of our floor, was from the same buffalo that our milk comes from. Somehow we just couldn't bring ourselves to attach the same import to this event as the cook did.

The above students of biology instructor Paul Hallie are examining a 7-day embryo in the Biology Lab at Telstar Regional High School. During this project students attempt to find answers to such questions as how the organism obtains food, gets rid of waste, and is protected in its environment, and they are able to see the development of membranes, some of which resemble those in human embryos.

their three-stage rocket for take-off. The students built their own rockets, which were of various types: one two-stage rocket, one three-stage rocket capable of carrying a payload, and several of the one-stage variety. All were the parachute-recovery kind. The rockets attained an altitude of from 18 to 3500 feet, and all but two were recovered. Mr. Kersey states that NASA's record was not much better initially. He also reports that one rocket soared aloft never to be seen again. For all the class knows, it may still be going. Who knows, when Apollo 11 astronauts land on the moon this July, they may find that Telstar Regional High School has preceded them there!

The interesting process of cutting and polishing a quartz crystal was demonstrated. The finished crystals were to be given to some lucky person. Cathy Davis and Leo Roberts received them. A polished amethyst stone from Brazil was given to each pupil. Some students took unusual rock specimens with them to be identified.

TELSTAR REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

GUIDANCE

Dear Seniors:

Congratulations and warmest wishes for a future of happiness and accomplishment. As the first class to claim Telstar as your school, I hope you will be able to look back and say that we were able to help you grow, to open a few new doors and opportunities for you. I know in many ways the year has not been easy for you, and at times you have been confused and disturbed by the tremendous changes in your educational program this year.

The guidance department would like you to know that though you have your diploma, we are always here to help you. I hope that many of you who are going to work or in the services will decide later to continue your education, and return to us for information and counseling.

Working with you seniors has made my first year at Telstar most rewarding and certainly unforgettable. You will be sorely missed next year. Good luck to you all!

Mrs. Priscilla D. Hotte, Counselor

Dear Juniors:

In order to make certain you meet graduation requirements and make sound post high-school plans, you need to keep the following points in mind. All juniors will be required to earn a minimum of 20 points, including 4 units of English, 1½ unit of United States History, ½ unit of Constitution and the Law, and to pass one year of physical education for each year at Telstar. To avoid a shortage of points, it is wise to enroll in at least one extra course. I think more of you have found that you can handle more than the minimum of six selections a year. During the summer months each of you will receive a letter indicating the number of credits you have accumulated at the end of the junior year.

I hope many of you will consider going on for more training or higher education after high school. If you are interested in college, it will help to start investigating as many colleges as you can over the summer. Catalogs of many colleges are available in the Guidance office. Those not available may be obtained by writing to the Director of Admissions. If you have a chance, visit some colleges during the summer. There is nothing that can take the place of a visit; pictures and words can be very deceiving. Go see for yourself.

In selecting and narrowing down your choice of colleges, I think you will find the College View-Deck Machine helpful. If you can start making tentative college choices now, you will avoid some of the senior rush and panic you have heard so much about.

College-bound students should review their programs carefully for next year. Make sure you are carrying a full, solid program. Good intentions about getting ready for college must be backed up by performance—colleges look for depth of study and continuation of math, science, and language sequences. Colleges are also interested in evidence about maturity, independence, and values, and any special talents or qualities that distinguish you. Keep in mind the fact that the majority of high school students today have completed above and beyond the minimum requirements for entrance. The Guidance Office will be open

ACTIVITIES

On Tuesday, June 10, the National Honor Society Assembly was held in the Telstar Auditorium. During the candlelight ceremony, members, who were gowned in white robes, spoke on the various aspects of the National Honor Society. Then they went down into the audience to tap the new members and escort them to the stage where they repeated the pledge and were received into the Society. Parents of the new members were guests at the assembly and later came to the stage to congratulate the students.

The senior members, elected in their junior year of high school, are Karen Berryment, Rayann Burnham, Eileen Cole, Beverly Coolidge, Paula Howe, Karen Keniston, and Janis Kennagh.

New members are: Seniors—Kathrina Lowe, Jeanne Merrill, and Beverly York. Juniors—Judy Angevine, Ruth Durgin, Lincoln Fiske, Frank Gibson, Florence Kimball, and Terry Swan.

After school on Tuesday, members of the Library Club and their guests, 25 in all, were treated to a picnic and outing at Abbott's Anchorage, Bryant Pond, where swimming, boating, and water-skiing were enjoyed. Appreciative thanks go to Mrs. Cathryn Lovejoy, who assisted Mrs. Gibbs as chaperone and furnished transportation, to Mrs. Thelma Dombkowski, who also furnished transportation, and to Jerry Gibbs, who skillfully piloted the boat through innumerable circuits of the lake.

Last Sunday, June 8, two events of importance were held at Telstar Regional High School: the Dedication and the Baccalaureate services.

At the Dedication exercises Superintendent Ralph Ryder introduced platform guests, including the Reverend Carl Kingsbury, who gave the Invocation; Bradley Fiske, President of the Telstar Student Council, who led the Pledge of Allegiance; Philip Wadsworth, Architect, who presented the keys of the building; Richard Melville, chairman of the Board of Directors, Milton Mills, Chairman of the Building Committee, and C. Richard Vaughn, principal, who accepted the keys; Dr. Sidney Davidson, trustee of the William Bingham 2nd Betterment Fund; Ray Cook, Assistant Commissioner, Division of Education; Tracey Gray, Division Plant Manager, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Long Lines Department, who was the main speaker of the afternoon; Lester Blockford, former director and former Building Committee chairman; Dexter Stowell, former chairman of the Board of Directors, and the Reverend Clifford Laws, who gave the benediction.

Mr. Ryder also read a letter from Governor Kenneth M. Curtis, who was unable to attend. At the beginning of the program, the Telstar Band, under the direction of Glenn Bangs, played several selections, and the Telstar Chorus, directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Tebbets, performed at the end.

Sunday's second event was Telstar's first Baccalaureate, held that evening. The speaker was the Rev.

Mrs. Priscilla D. Hotte, Counselor

The Guidance Staff extends to teachers and students best wishes for the vacation. May you all have a profitable and enjoyable summer and look forward with anticipation to the school year 1969-70.
